

The Department of Economics at the University of Calgary invites applications for a full-time tenure-track academic position in Economics at the Assistant or Associate Professor level. Commencement dates are negotiable but the expectation is that the start date would be no later than July 1, 2015.

Preference will be given to candidates who demonstrate experience teaching at both the undergraduate or graduate levels; as well as a demonstrated potential to initiate high-impact research and scholarship in Macroeconomics. Applicants are expected to hold an earned Ph.D. in Economics obtained before 2012. Preference will be given to candidates showing exceptional promise in research and teaching. All faculty members are expected to compete for outside academic funding.

The Department of Economics is leading research department in Canada, with thriving graduate (M.A. and Ph.D) and undergraduate programs. For more information about the department, see <http://econ.ucalgary.ca>

Interested individuals are requested to apply on <https://econjobmarket.org>. Applicants should upload the following materials as separate documents: (1) curriculum vita, (2) a statement of interest, (3) a teaching portfolio including student evaluations (4) copies of relevant research papers. Applicants must also arrange for three letters of recommendation to be submitted to <https://econjobmarket.org>. All materials must be submitted in .pdf format.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Additional Information

About the University of Calgary

The University of Calgary is a leading Canadian university located in the nation's most enterprising city. The university has a clear strategic direction to become one of Canada's top five research universities by 2016, where innovative teaching and groundbreaking research go hand in hand, and where we fully engage the communities we both serve and lead. The strategy is called Eyes High, inspired by our Gaelic motto, which translates to 'I will lift up my eyes'.

To succeed as one of Canada's top universities, where new ideas are created, tested and applied through first-class teaching and research, the University of Calgary needs more of the best minds in our classrooms and labs. We're increasing our scholarly capacity by investing in people who want to change the world, bringing the best and brightest to Calgary to form a global intellectual hub and achieve advances that matter to everyone.

About Calgary

Named a cultural capital of Canada and one of the best places to live in the world, Calgary is a city of leaders - in business, community, philanthropy and volunteerism. Calgarians benefit from the strongest economy in the nation and enjoy more days of sunshine per year than any other major Canadian city. Calgary is less than an hour's drive from the majestic Rocky Mountains and boasts the most extensive urban pathway and bikeway network in North America.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. The University of Calgary respects, appreciates, and encourages diversity.

The Department of Economics at the University of Calgary invites applications for a full-time tenure-track academic position in Economics at the Assistant or Associate Professor level. Commencement dates are negotiable but the expectation is that the start date would be no later than July 1, 2015.

Preference will be given to candidates who demonstrate experience teaching at both the undergraduate or graduate levels; as well as a demonstrated potential to initiate high-impact research and scholarship in Environmental economics. Applicants are expected to hold an earned Ph.D. in Economics obtained before 2012. Preference will be given to candidates showing exceptional promise in research and teaching. All faculty members are expected to compete for outside academic funding.

The Department of Economics is leading research department in Canada, with thriving graduate (M.A. and Ph.D) and undergraduate programs. For more information about the department, see <http://econ.ucalgary.ca>

Interested individuals are requested to apply on <https://econjobmarket.org>. Applicants should upload the following materials as separate documents: (1) curriculum vita, (2) a statement of interest, (3) a teaching portfolio including student evaluations (4) copies of relevant research papers. Applicants must also arrange for three letters of recommendation to be submitted to <https://econjobmarket.org>. All materials must be submitted in .pdf format.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Additional Information

About the University of Calgary

The University of Calgary is a leading Canadian university located in the nation's most enterprising city. The university has a clear strategic direction to become one of Canada's top five research universities by 2016, where innovative teaching and groundbreaking research go hand in hand, and where we fully engage the communities we both serve and lead. The strategy is called Eyes High, inspired by our Gaelic motto, which translates to 'I will lift up my eyes'.

To succeed as one of Canada's top universities, where new ideas are created, tested and applied through first-class teaching and research, the University of Calgary needs more of the best minds in our classrooms and labs. We're increasing our scholarly capacity by investing in people who want to change the world, bringing the best and brightest to Calgary to form a global intellectual hub and achieve advances that matter to everyone.

About Calgary

Named a cultural capital of Canada and one of the best places to live in the world, Calgary is a city of leaders - in business, community, philanthropy and volunteerism. Calgarians benefit from the strongest economy in the nation and enjoy more days of sunshine per year than any other major Canadian city. Calgary is less than an hour's drive from the majestic Rocky Mountains and boasts the most extensive urban pathway and bikeway network in North America.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. The University of Calgary respects, appreciates, and encourages diversity.

The Department of Economics at the University of Calgary invites applications for a full-time tenure-track academic position in Economics at the Assistant or Associate Professor level. Commencement dates are negotiable but the expectation is that the start date would be no later than July 1, 2015.

Preference will be given to candidates who demonstrate experience teaching at both the undergraduate or graduate levels; as well as a demonstrated potential to initiate high-impact research and scholarship in Microeconomics. We are interested in both theory and application, with an emphasis in any number of fields including public finance, industrial organization, behavioural and experimental economics, labour, international trade, etc. Applicants are expected to hold an earned Ph.D. in Economics obtained before 2012. Preference will be given to candidates showing exceptional promise in research and teaching. All faculty members are expected to compete for outside academic funding.

The Department of Economics is leading research department in Canada, with thriving graduate (M.A. and Ph.D) and undergraduate programs. For more information about the department, see <http://econ.ucalgary.ca>

Interested individuals are requested to apply on <https://econjobmarket.org>. Applicants should upload the following materials as separate documents: (1) curriculum vita, (2) a statement of interest, (3) a teaching portfolio including student evaluations (4) copies of relevant research papers. Applicants must also arrange for three letters of recommendation to be submitted to <https://econjobmarket.org>. All materials must be submitted in .pdf format.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Additional Information

About the University of Calgary

The University of Calgary is a leading Canadian university located in the nation's most enterprising city. The university has a clear strategic direction to become one of Canada's top five research universities by 2016, where innovative teaching and groundbreaking research go hand in hand, and where we fully engage the communities we both serve and lead. The strategy is called Eyes High, inspired by our Gaelic motto, which translates to 'I will lift up my eyes'.

To succeed as one of Canada's top universities, where new ideas are created, tested and applied through first-class teaching and research, the University of Calgary needs more of the best minds in our classrooms and labs. We're increasing our scholarly capacity by investing in people who want to change the world, bringing the best and brightest to Calgary to form a global intellectual hub and achieve advances that matter to everyone.

About Calgary

Named a cultural capital of Canada and one of the best places to live in the world, Calgary is a city of leaders - in business, community, philanthropy and volunteerism. Calgarians benefit from the strongest economy in the nation and enjoy more days of sunshine per year than any other major Canadian city. Calgary is less than an hour's drive from the majestic Rocky Mountains and boasts the most extensive urban pathway and bikeway network in North America.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. The University of Calgary respects, appreciates, and encourages diversity.