Workshop on

“Labor market search and policy applications”

Organizers: Carlos Carrillo-Tudela (University of Leicester)
Christian Holzner (Ifo Institute)
Leo Kaas (University of Konstanz)

Location: University of Konstanz, Germany.

On 25 - 26 June 2010, the Department of Economics at the University of Konstanz and CESifo will organize a joint workshop on labor market search and policy applications.

The purpose of the workshop is to stimulate research in the search and matching literature and to bring together high-profile researchers with younger colleagues. The work presented at the workshop should cover theoretical as well as empirical contributions to the search literature. Given the strength of the literature to quantitatively assess theoretical models, the aim of the workshop is to promote the connection of theory and quantitative applications addressing policy relevant questions. The workshop will put particular emphasis on wage dispersion and inequality, labor supply and participation as well as firm dynamics, job creation and job destruction.

The keynote speeches will be delivered by Kenneth Burdett, University of Pennsylvania, and Dale Mortensen, Northwestern University.

The deadline for submissions is 1st of April 2010. For submission, please send your paper via e-mail either to Carlos Carrillo-Tudela (cct9@leicester.ac.uk) or Christian Holzner (holzner@ifo.de). Authors of submitted papers will be notified about acceptance by the end of April 2010 at the latest.

The organizers of the workshop are grateful for the financial support of the Thyssen foundation and CESifo. The University of Konstanz and CESifo will provide accommodation and reimburse economy class travel costs for researchers presenting an accepted paper at the workshop. All papers given at the workshop will appear in the CESifo Working Paper Series after revision.
